Did you Know:

Many landowners are concerned that their land will not receive adequate care due to the lack of interest from the younger generation

Some current landowners have concerns with handing land over to family members with financial or other problems

Some landowners face the inability or unwillingness to deal with the reality that their land will someday be owned by the next generation

40% of forest landowners don't have a written will or other estate planning preparations

If you are interested in learning more about the Ties to the Land program, then you will benefit from this two session workshop.

2 cat 1 Continuing Forestry Education credits will be offered for this program.

Individuals who require special accommodations to participate should contact the Yalobusha County Extension Office to make their request prior to the program. Contact should be timely to ensure appropriate accommodation.

Yalobusha County Forestry Association

You are encouraged to become a member of the Yalobusha County Forestry Association. Its purpose is to promote, develop, and protect the forest and natural resources for the best interest of present and future generations. The membership conducts public affairs, communications, and educational programs that promote a better understanding of the environment and forest management. If interested, contact your county extension director about joining.

Ties to the Land: Your Family Forest Heritage

Description

Land as an asset for future generations is one of the major objectives of many forest landowners. Proper planning is required to ensure an efficient transfer of land and timber to the next generation, and can protect your treasured family forest from misuse or loss. This course is designed for landowners and their potential heirs - for example, spouses, siblings, parents and children. Because this is an interactive course, participants who attend by themselves are less likely to receive the fullest benefit of the information.
